

Argyll College UHI Principal Martin Jones – Graduation Message to Students

We've got to the time of year where we would be ordinarily celebrating your achievements in a graduation ceremony. But unfortunately with the year that we've just had that's not possible. But there's a time for celebration nonetheless and UHI are going to kick off a week of digital celebrations.

And I just wanted to say a few words of congratulations to all of you who have achieved so much this year. It's been so difficult to study in amongst everything else that's been going on. So really hats off to all of you who've achieved so much in that time.

Some of you may have already marked this occasion already with your celebrations at home and have pictures with friends and family. And if you've got pictures that you have already or pictures that you might take in this period, please share them on social media, because we do like to see that.

So thanks again for all your hard work. Well done. And maybe we'll see you again as a student at Argyll College UHI in the future.
